COMMITTEE WILL TAKE NO ACTION

FINANCE COMMITTEE OF SENATE HAVE CANADIAN BILL IN CHARGE.

TO BE REPORTED BACK

To the Upper House for Consideration on the Floor in Debate.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—The finance committee of the senate was called together today to consider the McCall bill to put into effect the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Three or four days at least will probably be consumed by the committee in reaching its decision, after going over the matter thoroughly.

It is said the indications are that the treaty will be reported without recommendation, the object of this being in the interest of an early transfer of the right to the door of the senate.

This is in accordance with promises made to President Taft by the leaders.

The most ardent supporters of the reciprocity on the committee are Culver of Illinois, republican, and Money of Mississippi and Stone of Missouri, democrat.

One reason for not taking definite action today was the absence on account of illness of Senator Hale (Rep., Maine) who has a very strong and hostile interest.

With only twelve legislative days remaining during the present session, the amount of work left is appalling.

Among other measures of national importance, six appropriation bills, carrying hundreds of millions of dol-

RECIPROCITY IDEA FINDS FAVOR WITH PEOPLE OF CANADA

Reports Are That People Will Demand Acceptance of Agreement of Laurier Government.

[EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.]

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 18.—Persistent reports that the Laurier government will go to the country on the reciprocity agreement are published by the opposition press. This in itself is an acknowledgement of the popularity of the policy, for the government is under no necessity to face another general election until 1913.

Moreover, the census is to be taken this year, with redistribution of parliamentary representation following; in this redistribution the western provinces expect to make large gains, and it has not been generally believed that the government would precipitate a general election before 1912.

Such an appeal would not interfere, of course, with the passage of the agreement by parliament at this session, for which the government has ample votes.

R. L. Borden, the opposition leader, has not revealed the line of action he will adopt when the debate is resumed in the house of commons on Tuesday, but he expects to keep up an aggressive fight as indicated by the numerous conferences with F. D. Monk and other of his lieutenants.

Whatever their course, however, the friends of reciprocity have no doubt that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Messrs. Fielding and Paterson are prepared to carry the agreement to ratification.

One of the effects of the reciprocity agreement here is an increase in the output of poetry. The twanging of the lyre is heard in various quarters, Fred-

UPHEAVAL IN STATE DEPARTMENT COMING

Rumor Says President Will Remove Certain Members of Diplomatic Bureau, After Congress Adjourns.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 18.—"Lame Duck" members of Congress are not the only persons whose official hats will fall into the executioner's basket on March 1 next, or soon thereafter. With the approach of the end of the session, the rumblings portending disturbance in the State Department grow louder.

The upheaval is expected to center in the diplomatic bureau. Dismissions, demotions, and transfers will be the manifestation, it is believed, of the workings of the inner machinery.

The clouds seem to be gathering thickly about the head of Henry Lane Wilson, of Spokane, Wash. Lane Wilson, of Spokane, Wash. Lane Wilson was promoted to his present post from the legation in Brussels, largely through the efforts of his brother, who is well known as a newspaper owner in Washington state.

It is asserted that Mr. Wilson has been most unfortunate in the effect his work has produced upon Secretary Knox. It is admitted that this position has been a trying one, owing to the revolutionary and anti-American disturbances in Mexico which have been growing more serious since last summer. Yet, the fact remains that the work has been pronounced unsatisfactory. Whether he will be dismissed or merely transferred is a question yet undecided; the latter alternative is said to be likely.

Since the resignation of Oscar Straus as ambassador to Turkey, the department has been searching for his successor. No one has been chosen as yet, and it is now expected that transfers will be made to fill the vacancy. Ambassador Rockhill at St. Petersburg is named as the most likely candidate.

That two, and possibly three of the posts in South America will have new incumbents this spring is considered certain. Little is known, however, of the changes contemplated in the Latin-American countries.

Consideration of the candidates for the various posts to be affected by the shakeup has been deliberately deferred by President Taft and Secretary Knox. For one reason, they wished to devote their time during the session of Congress to other more pressing matters, such as the proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada, and the potash dispute with Germany. Another reason for the delay, hardly less potent, is that after Congress adjourns, the President may appoint without thought of the Senate. That body will probably not meet until December next, and thus his appointments may hold office in the diplomatic service for nearly a year before the Senate need be asked to confirm them. Once in, it is believed almost any appointment will be confirmed.

Some equally good names are in course of compilation.

MURPHY WAS STAR IN COLLEGE GAME

Janesville Boy In Stellar Work On Detroit Team Helps Defeat Armour Institute.

[REPRINTED FROM THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit, Feb. 17.—In a fast, rough basket ball game, filled with exciting moments, Beloit college defeated Armour Institute last night by the score of 27 to 8. The game was not as one-sided as the score would seem to indicate, but was hotly contested throughout, and at the end of the first half was anybody's game, the score being 7 to 5 in Beloit's favor. The Armour men lost the game in the second half, by getting rattled, and playing very wildly. There was great deal of rough play on both sides, and fouls were frequently called.

The star games were played for Beloit by Puffer and Murphy, last year's captain of the Janesville high school team. Puffer secured the greatest number of baskets, while Murphy, who also did some fine basket shooting, played a splendid all-around game.

The team next plays Ripon and Lawrence, and high hopes are entertained for a state championship, as was secured in football.

"The Cat and the Fiddle."

A gorgeous musical extravaganza, "The Cat and the Fiddle," is the next attraction at the Myers theatre, Saturday, Feb. 25, matinee and evening. A company of some forty singers, dancers, comedians, and a large and expertly trained beauty chorus smartly gowned are promised. The plot is found on the famous old nursery rhyme, of "Hi Diddle Diddle, the Cat stage settings are promised than have ever been presented by one organization before.

It is a long time since "Fantasma," "The Black Crook," "Mother Goose," "The Babes in the Woods," and for that reason "The Cat and the Fiddle" is interesting.

Some of the prominent scenes include "On Deck of the Fairy Ship Diana," "The Golden Fire Shower," "The Airship," "Under the Sea," "The Giant's Haunted Castle," and others too numerous to mention.

The cast includes Harry B. Watson, as "Happy," a child of fortune, favorably known as a comedian of decided merit; the Boylans as the twins; Geo. E. Winkfield as "Great Gob"; J. O. Campbell as the Lieutenant; Lawrence Gothard as the "Gigantic Cat"; Mitty Martz, as beautiful, stately "Circe"; and a capable number of other good extravaganza players.

Ian Robertson interviewed in "The Third Floor Back."

A correspondent had an interesting chat with Mr. Ian Robertson on the subject of the stage generally and in particular Jerome's play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," in which he comes to the Myers theatre, Monday evening, Feb. 20.

"The Passing of the Third Floor Back," said the actor, "is both simple and symbolic. It has a spiritual significance which we have been delighted to find appealed to the hearts and minds of our audience to an amazing degree, as shown by their unanimous silence as much as by their generous applause and the innumerable letters of appreciation we have received from all kinds and conditions of people."

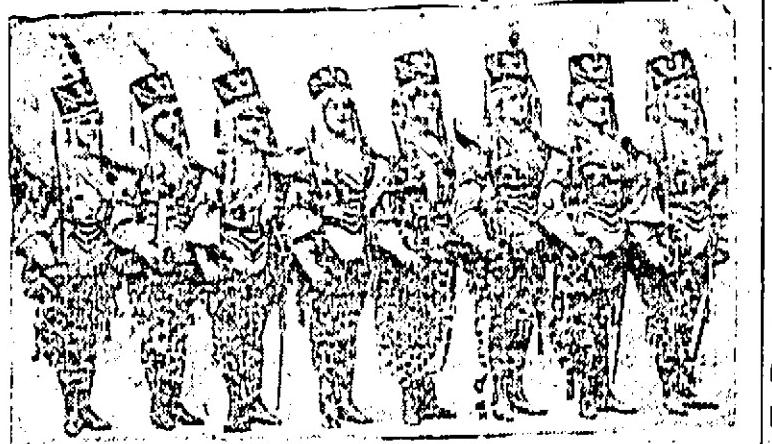

"Mr. Jerome's play is decidedly one with a motive—a purpose if not precisely a mission—and it is a curious coincidence that the next production to attract public attention to a marked degree was another play with a purpose—inspired with the idea of spirit while ours is permeated by the spirit of peace and goodwill."

"The power of the stage is becoming more and more pronounced, and its influence is far-reaching to a pre-eminent degree. Dickens and other great writers—British and American—have written novels with a purpose which did great good, while the playwrights of today seem to have discovered the same philosopher's stone."

"We were at first very nervous as to the reception 'The Passing of the Third Floor Back' would obtain. The theme is so original, so daring, and, at the same time, so delicate, that we had doubts if the public would be attracted. But that they have been is simply shown by its six months' successful run in London and its reception since on the road. We are gratified, too, to think that the play may help to raise the conception of the stage, in the thoughts of others and inspire loftier ideals and bring a little more beauty, perhaps, into the lives of those who see it."

"Yes. We have seen many and great changes in the stage since the days when my brother and I first became actors. Nothing could be more remarkable than the enormous improvement that has taken place in the tone of the stage. This, indeed, applies to all branches of entertainment. And then again there has been a tremendous advance in acting. We have not, it is true, with us today men who level of excellence has been raised to stand out like giants. In our early life greater height, it is difficult for days there were actors who stood out above his fellows from all the rest like great towering trees trying to stand out in his day. There plumes, Phelps, Macready, and others are so many facilities for bringing out others. But I am afraid that the day of all that is best in an actor, who yet plumes is past. Yet the general must have the horn instinct."

HOOSIER

You cannot afford to wear yourself out—you cannot afford the long, tedious hours of kitchen work in the old fashioned way, when such a convenience as the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet will relieve you as it has nearly 500,000 women in all parts of the United States.

Think of the millions of steps you now have to take from the pantry to the kitchen table, from the kitchen table to the pantry—and to and from the shelves and hooks for your materials and utensils.

The Hoosier saves you these steps. It saves you reaching the high shelves. It saves you the back-breaking strain of stooping over barrels and bins. It saves you the whole bother of assembling a dozen things for your work. It brings the kitchen workshop and all the materials to your finger tips. Here in one spot 40 inches wide you have nine-tenths of all the articles used in cooking and baking. Sitting comfortably before your Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet you do your kitchen work in one-half the time it now takes.

You who do not know the blessing of one of these cabinets now will surely have one in your kitchen some day. Why delay? Join the users of the wonderful Hoosier at once. Nearly one-half a million women will back your judgment.

The Importance of Electricity in the Home

It matters not whether the home is your own or whether you rent the house, electricity is a wonderful improvement in it. Electric Light is the pure air light, and pure air is invaluable in your home. Pure air saves doctor's bills. Moreover Electric Light is the safest light in existence. Ask any insurance man to confirm this. Sanitation and safety are two strong features, but Electric Light with the new Tungsten burners is the cheapest light there is. If you own your home you cannot afford to be without Electric Light. If you rent the house, it is a money making proposition to have it electric lighted, because it commands more rent, rents easier and houses wired for electricity are modern houses—equipped for vacuum cleaner, electric fans, porch light and other conveniences.

How We Can Make This Offer

By special arrangements with the lighting contractors, who are not busy during this month, we can make this offer. It is good only until March 1st:

What This Special Offer Means

It means that when you accept it you are $10.00 in pocket at once, and that your property increases in value many times that much. It means that you immediately reduce the cost of interior decorating to a minimum because of the cleanliness. It means that you can have decent, modern lighting, that you get the cheapest light and the best light. It means cool rooms in hot weather.

Electric Light does not heat up the room. It means that you will never need matches again when you want a light. Turn a switch and the room is flooded with light.

Special Offer Until March 1st, 1911

If your house is along any of our distributing lines we will wire it complete, subject to approval of City Electrician, as follows:

Two rooms with 2-light brass fixtures complete; three rooms with one light drop cord or side bracket in each.....$15.00

Complete for the home.

TO ALL READERS

The Gazette is anxious to bring each of its readers into closer touch with both the newspaper and each other. It would like to have them feel free to send in news items, notices of parties, personal mention, happenings in your own community, accidents that may occur—in fact anything that you think would interest other readers.

Matters of this nature can be telephoned to the editorial rooms. Call Rock county telephone 62, or Wisconsin phone 77 three rings.

Meetings of lodges, church gatherings, and special meetings of clubs will be necessary to have written out and left at or mailed to the Gazette to avoid mistakes which might otherwise occur.

The columns of the paper are also open to communications on subjects of interest. Write your views of affairs, on one side of the paper only. Be sure and sign your name; it will not be published if you do not wish it to, and either leave or mail to the office.

Try this system and you will be surprised how much more interesting the reading of the evening paper becomes to you.

"Faith, friends are a trouble, lad;
They must be screened an' fed,
An' sunned beyond your cabin door,
An' carried back to bed!

"Faith, love it is a burthen, lass;
The give an' take;
Aye, knowin' how ye give too much
An' never count the ache!

"Och, chil'der', ma'am, are worrisome,
An' frot an' throuble fall
On whaman whan their chil'der' come;
They have no peace at all!

But song an' love an' chil'der' faith,
These things you're gettin' free,
Those things you've held to pest ye so,
Are th' things ye'll find can rest ye so,
Are th' things ye'll mind have blast
ye so,

While you're as ould as me!"

—Arthur Stringer in the Delineator for January.

There is a world of truth in the sentiment so nicely expressed in this little poem. The roadway of life is not always smooth and there are times when the burdens are so heavy that they tax endurance to the limit, yet life would not be worth the living if the voyage was always serene and the sky cloudless.

A lady who spent a year in California complained that the perpetual sunshine became monotonous, and she was glad to get back to Wisconsin with its rainy days and an occasional blizzard.

The troubles of life commence very early in the game. The first smile that crosses the face of the little strangel wrapped up in the blanket is a colley smile, the initial penalty exacted for existence, and about the only kind of trouble which finds joyous expression.

The boys and girls in the home have troubles of their own. The first gleam of intelligence is expressed in a want for something which they do not possess, and those wants develop as the years advance.

The boy across the street has a pony and the heart of every boy in the neighborhood is filled with envy. The girl next door has a doll that can talk and all other dolls soon lose their charm.

This spirit of envy, which seems to be a part of our inheritance, strengthens with the years, and is the cause of more trouble, at every stage of the journey, than all other causes combined.

The tidal wave of reform, which has deluged the country during the past two or three years, gathers volume and impetus from envy. Many people have been led to believe that railroads and corporations, known as special interests, are not bearing their share of the burden, and so all sorts of regulatory laws are demanded. Yet the fact remains that the men who shout the loudest only lack the brains and opportunity to transform them into Rockefeller or railway magnates.

General Coxey, the man who gained notoriety during the last panic by leading an army of tramps across the country, came to himself shortly after, and for the past dozen years or more has been engaged in manufacturing in Ohio, and is about to retire with a fortune.

Socialism, with all its fine theories, is inspired by the spirit of envy. The equal distribution of property, whether legally or by force, expresses a disposition to take away what rightfully belongs to other people, and get something for nothing, and these proceedings always invite trouble.

There are some homes where children are not welcome, and many more where the little brood is so troublesome that the mother antepitates, with a sigh of relief, the time when they will be old enough to care for themselves, but it is a false delusion, for next to the childless home, no home is as forlorn as the home which was once joyous with the laughter of children.

This loss comes to the mother with peculiar significance because the home is her citadel. The wealth of love and sacrifice with which she endowed it during the years of busy activity, becomes a sacred memory, and she lives over the years when the boys and girls were at home with no thought of the trouble they caused her.

The love of a mother is unlike any other love because it is not tempered with justice. The boy or the girl may wander far afield and be forsaken by every other kinship. They may be destitute of virtue and honor, but a mother's love and forbearance goes out to them with the old time tenderness of childhood, and while separated for years she always thinks of them as children.

The love of a mother is said to be like the love of God, but it is different, because there is nothing intangible or supernatural about it, and no penalty for violation of law connected with it.

The young man who goes out into life with a mother's blessing, may yield to the power of temptation and in a few years become a physical and moral wreck. The love of God does not save him from the penalty, but the mother's love never weakens and she takes him back to the old home and cares for him with old time tenderness.

The girl, in the care-free years of young womanhood, may make a mistake which costs her the loss of friends and ostracism from society. Divine love can not ward off the penalty, but a mother's love comes to the rescue.

Is it any wonder that the mothers who wait in the twilight of life, oppressed with loneliness, hark back to the years when the troublesome children made the home a hellish, and envied the homes of the new generation, traveling the same journey under similar environments.

Here's a little tribute, from an unknown author, to the memory of his mother. How that dear name seems to roll, Through the chambers of the soul, How it brightens all the way Of the busy latter days.

Mother! It is like a prayer Breathed upon the evening air, Those dear hands that ever spread Blessings on my childish head, Long since folded on her breast In that last eternal rest.

Rain and sunshine, smiles and tears Fill the measure of the years, Would I were as fit to be Kneeling at my mother's knee As when childish prayer I said There beside my cradle bed, When I "lay me down to sleep" For that last long slumber deep May she stand upon the shore Keeping love watch us of yore, Safe the way that she will guide, Safe the time and safe the tide.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

WHERE DO YOU LIVE?

Henry Ward Beecher said man is a three storied animal.

He may be more than that, but he is at least three stories high—or low.

There is the first story.

That is the basement, the ground floor, where we spend most of our time. There appetite rules and passions crawl. We are so made that the daily cares of our physical selves require much attention.

Above is the second story.

That is where we live intellectually. Some of us live up there more than do others. But if we spend even a brief time in that pleasant room each day it gives us strength and happiness.

The third story?

That is the best part of ourselves—the highest story. And do you know there are some who seldom live in that part of the house? They put it up in their garret. It is the tower room where we live in kindship with the spiritual forces of the universe.

Where do you live?

In the basement of yourself? Or on your intellectual floor—the second story of yourself?

Or on the sereno heights of your spiritual self?

How some of us furnish and furniture the basement! There is nothing too good for our physical entertainment.

And many of us find in the intellectual second story our choicest treasures and our coziest place.

But the top story?

Ah! There in that upper chamber we are to find the source of all our strength. Even a few moments in communion with the spiritual forces of that altitude will bring peace and power.

How get up there?

We rise on stepping stones of our dead selves—climb the stairs up from self to selflessness. Sometimes from home to tower is a long way, but like the stairs to the top of Stirling castle—there's the outlook!

Where do you live?

In the basement or subbasement of yourself?

Did you ever stop to think that the movements of this life mayhap extend into the next life?

ROOSEVELT DAM IS READY FOR SERVICE

Work in Reclamation Project Complete and Dam is Now Ready For Opening.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The last stone has been laid in the dam wall of the Roosevelt dam and preparations are now under way for its formal opening on March 18. Ex-President Roosevelt, for whom the massive structure has been named, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Archdeacon and Ethel, will participate in the three day celebration.

Located in an almost inaccessible canyon, sixty miles from a railroad, the rapid and successful construction of the dam has been watched with interest by engineers all over the world. The massive walls rise two hundred and eighty-four feet from foundation to parapet. Its length, on top, is one thousand eighty feet and across it runs a road-way twenty feet in width.

Just below the point where the Tonopah Creek empties into it the Salt Lake River enters one of the most magnificent canyons of the west, forming an ideal dam site. Behind the structure the waters of the turbulent stream will form a reservoir twenty-five miles long and more than two hundred feet deep. Its capacity is approximately 56,228,000,000 cubic feet, or of sufficient quantity to cover the entire state of Delaware with a sheet of water one foot deep.

The water held back by the dam will be used for the irrigation of more than two hundred thousand acres of land in the vicinity of Phoenix, Arizona, and the power created at the dam will be transmitted electrically for more than a hundred miles down the valley to operate pumps. These pumps will raise underground water to Petitions for the Closing of the Post-office on Sundays to Be Distributed in All the Churches.

That the crusade with the idea of having the postoffice closed on Sunday has taken most definite form is evidenced by the fact that tomorrow in every church in the city blank petitions to Postmaster Valentine will be handed out for signature of the churchgoers asking that he take the matter up with the postoffice authorities at Washington to see if the closing on Sunday cannot be accomplished.

Fearing that perhaps there may be some of the discrete readers who will not be present at church, owing to illness or from other causes, a copy of the petition that is to be handed out is printed below, and it is suggested that those who wish to sign them can clip them out from the paper and forward them to Mr. Valentine themselves.

Official Dedication of New Hall Owned by St. Mary's Church Will Take Place on Tuesday Evening.

The new hall of St. Mary's church in the building used as a church before the building of the present magnificent structure, will be officially thrown open to the public on Tuesday evening next when exercises appropriate to the occasion will be given. A splendid program has been prepared and a feature of the evening's entertainment will be a lecture by Fr. O'Reilly of the Rockford diocese, on "Irish Characteristics." The lecture is well rendered and is of great interest. In other cities where it has been delivered, it has been much discussed.

For the past four months workmen have been engaged in remodelling the old church building and fitting it up. On the first floor are four large rooms, each twenty-five by thirty feet and all

CENTENNIAL OF FORMATION OF LODGE IN WASHINGTON.

Masons Will Celebrate Anniversary
Of Organization With Three-day Celebration.

In the Adirondack Forests.

There are no venomous snakes or bears in all the great Adirondack forest section, although there are deer in abundance, eagles, pheasants, bear and beavers.

Wadsworth, D. C., Feb. 18.—It will be one hundred years tomorrow since the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the District of Columbia received its charter. The anniversary is regarded as of such importance that the fraternity will observe it with a three-day celebration, which was ushered in today with the arrival and reception of numerous high officials of the order invited from all parts of the country to participate in the observance. The chief feature of the celebration will be the formal exercises in the Belvoir Theater tomorrow afternoon and a grand banquet Monday night at the New Willard Hotel.

The Difference.

At a Christmas dinner in Washington a statesman, who had been much in the public eye, was called upon after the meal to make a little speech. He rose and began, "You have been giving your attention so far to a turkey stuffed with sage. You are now about to give your attention to a sage stuffed with turkey!"

Nott Brothers Paper Box Company Moves From Bicknell Block To New Quarters—Change In Firm.

Nott Brothers, manufacturers of paper boxes, formerly operating in the Bicknell building on Academy street, owing to an increase in their business have been forced not only to move into a larger building but also to make some changes in the firm. They now occupy the structure formerly used by the Western Shoe company, the move having been made last week. Their new quarters give them about three times as much floor space as they had before, besides offering better opportunities for shipping.

The firm changes will take place March 1st, and from then on will be known as the Bicknell City Paper Box company. The company will be in the form of a partnership and in addition to Albert Nott, the founder of the business, Frank Shawson who for eleven years has been connected with the Janesville Bicknell Wire company will be the other member of the concern.

BEGGAR ASSAILED GOULD RESIDENCE

Refused Aid, Man Hurls Brick Through Window.

WOMAN IS HIT AND INJURED

Mrs. Emma Scholes is Believed to Have Been Mistaken for Miss Helen Gould, the Owner of the House.

New York, Feb. 18.—Angered when refused alms at the door, a tramp rushed to the street and hurled a brick through one of the library windows of Miss Helen Gould's Fifth Avenue residence last night.

Miss Gould was in an adjoining room and was unburnt, but Mrs. Edward Scholes was struck on the head and escaped serious injury only because of an abundance of hair. As it was she was knocked down.

Mrs. Scholes' profile could be seen plainly from the street, and the police believe that the tramp mistook her for Miss Gould. The brick he obtained from a building under construction nearby.

Miss Gould rushed into the library when she heard the crash, and the butler summoned the police.

SAID HE HAD ENGAGEMENT.

Miss Gould said her butler had come to her to tell her that a man was downstairs who had an engagement with her. She asked what he looked like, and the butler said he looked poor, but had a pleasant way of speaking. He was dressed in a well worn dark suit which was covered with a new overcoat and in his hand he carried a slouch hat. The butler said that the man had announced to him as he opened the door in response to the bell that he had come to see Miss Gould.

CLAIMED HE HAD ENGAGEMENT.

"And what do you want to see her about?" he asked.

"I have an engagement with Miss Gould," the man repeated, "and if you tell her that I am here she will see me." He did not give his name.

Miss Gould told the butler, however, that she had no engagement and didn't want to see the caller. She put him down in the chair of those who want a loan, and she believed that it is not proper to give money without knowing the kind of person one gives it to. So the butler went downstairs and told the caller that Miss Gould could not see him.

ANGERED WHEN REFUSED AID.

The man was so persistent that when the butler attempted to shut the door he placed his foot in the opening and withdrew it only when the heavy door squeaked it painfully.

As the stranger left the butler says he heard him curse, and five minutes later the brick came through the window.

PLANE IS LIKE SEA GULL

Aviator Curtiss Alights in Sea Near Cruiser and Then Flies Away Again.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 18.—Using one of his hydro-aeroplanes, Glenn Curtiss alighted on the water alongside the armored cruiser Pennsylvania and was hoisted on board. Soon afterward the aeroplane was dropped back into the water and the aviator flew away to his hangar on North Island. The test was made to show the navy department that an aeroplane equipped like that of Curtiss does not need an especially constructed platform on a ship's deck to make it of practical use to the navy.

London, England, Feb. 18.—The Very Rev. William Mordaunt Furneaux, dean of Winchester, has been intrusted by the convocation of Canterbury with the task of preparing an abridgement of the Ten Commandments, to be submitted for consideration at a meeting of the convocation in May.

Under the presidency of the archbishop of Canterbury, the convocation is sitting in Westminster, and has before it among other subjects a proposal to modify and shorten the Second, Fourth and Tenth Commandments. As a sample of the form which the abridgement will take, the dean said that probably he would suggest that the Tenth Commandment be abbreviated to read simply: "Thou shalt not covet." The modifications of the others have not been considered by him.

POSTMASTER IS UNDER FIRE

Benjamin F. Thomas Accused by Letter Carrier of Civil Service Violations.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 18.—Postmaster Benjamin F. Thomas is charged with serious violation of the civil service law in a complaint to the civil service commission by Daniel W. Tillotson, a letter carrier, who has been connected with the Omaha force for 23 years. Tillotson claims that because he refused to support candidates and measures in the last campaign as directed by Mr. Thomas' subordinates, he has been punished by reduction in rank, which involves corresponding reduction in pay.

SCHWAB IS OPTIMISTIC KILL 500 TRIBESMEN

DECLARES BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR YEAR IS BRIGHT.

Says Taft-Laurier Reciprocity Treaty is One of Best Signs for Prosperous Times.

New York, Feb. 18.—Charles M. Schwab returned from the Mauretanias from his midwinter vacation in Europe a more pronounced optimist as to the world-wide business outlook for the year than he was when he left New York three months ago.

"Every sign points to an unusually prosperous year, not only in the United States, but throughout the world," said Mr. Schwab. "The depression that to a greater or less extent extended around the world following our big panic of 1907, appears to have been replaced by a vigor of confidence and activity that augurs well. Business in all lines is booming, and in nothing more than in steel and iron. We could have no better sign than this. I don't see why this condition should not continue unabated and undoubtedly every industry in the United States will feel its beneficial effects."

Mr. Schwab declared that the Taft-Laurier Canadian reciprocity treaty was one of the best signs of the times. "I like that," he said. "The boundary line between the two countries is only imaginary anyhow, and they ought to be on the very best of terms commercially and socially. There is some Tory opposition to the agreement in England, as I found just before I left there, but that can't amount to much. Over there, as here, the alarmists—meaning persons of interests that have special cause for opposing reciprocity—are raising the cry of annexation as the next and logical step in the rapprochement between the two countries. In reality these alarmists in England, no more than their counterparts in the United States, have any fear of this."

Huge Bequest Made in Will of Baron Albert Rothschild—is Filed for Probate.

Udall, Kan., Feb. 18.—William McQuitty, twenty-three years old, killed himself here following the suicide of his fiance, Katherine Hulmer, eighteen years old. She killed herself because her father, who died a month ago provided in his will that she would lose her share of his $100,000 estate if she married McQuitty before she was twenty-five years old. Both died by shooting.

BIDDLE MAY TRY BERESFORD

Philadelphia Says He Will Challenge Englishman Who Knocked Out Drexel in Glove Fight.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—There is a probability that A. J. Drexel Biddle, son of the man after whom it is named, the torpedo boat destroyer Monaghan, slipped down the ways at the government shipyard today, amid the clattering of flags, shrieking of whistles and cheers of a little knot of prominent men and women assembled to witness the event. The new boat glided gracefully out upon the waters of the Chesapeake, and was caught by a government tug and towed to an anchorage to await completion.

The christening of the destroyer is another tribute to the memory of Ensign John Robert Monaghan, the Spokane boy who sacrificed his life defending his wounded officer in April, 1899, Young Monaghan, together with Lieutenant Phillip V. Landis and a detachment of 59 men, was sent ashore on the island of Upolu, Samoa. Here they were set upon by natives and several of the force cut off from retreat, among them Monaghan and Landis. Desperate attempts were made to succor the little band, but the natives successfully repelled the resolute party and at last all were cut down but Monaghan and his superior officer. Then Landis fell wounded, and, though he might have prolonged his life by a retreat, young Monaghan elected to stand by his officer, and died in the heroic performance of his duty. His action was lauded by his commander, Captain White of Philadelphia, and a monument to his memory, which stands today in a public thoroughfare of Spokane, was erected by the citizens of his native state.

FINE ISSUE IS OPINION

La Crosse Merchants Comment on Home Edition—Believe That It Will Work to Advantage of Local Trade.

That the Home Trade and Anti-Mail Order House edition of the Leader-Press and Chronicle was just as represented, and that it will prove an eye-opener to many a customer of out-of-town houses, is the consensus of opinion of La Crosse merchants. Here are some of the expressions on it:

Geo. W. Burton, president of the National Bank of La Crosse: "I read your edition on home patronage and it was a practical proposition."

W. F. Goodrich, manager of the La Crosse Independent Telephone company: "Anything that will encourage home patronage to the exclusion of out-of-town enterprises is a meritorious proposition."

J. A. Thwing, assistant cashier of the Security Savings bank: "It should be practiced by all—keep your money at home."

A. E. Reitzel of the Reitzel dry goods house: "Could not have been more convincing."

J. M. Holley, Jr., cashier of State Bank of La Crosse: "It is a good idea and should convince the people that home trading is the cheapest."

W. M. Hatcheller, of Hatcheller & Son: "A very good edition and we can do all it represents."

L. F. Gaubach of the Gaubach-Roth Shoe company: "It was the best ever put out in La Crosse and just as represented."

Peter Nowburg, clothing: "Fine edition. If the people will come in, La Crosse merchants will show them that La Crosse merchants sell a better quality of merchandise just as cheap as catalogue houses."

J. E. Gelvitz, jeweler: "Your edition was all right and was a credit to the Chronicle and Leader-Press."

J. Andra, pharmacist: "It was a fine edition and will help our town."

A. S. Frink, president of Gateway Lumber company: "Splendid edition and of merit."

A. A. Graef, of the Graef Hat company: "One of the best editions ever put out in the interest of La Crosse industries."

James A. Trane, plumber: "A good edition to help the town."

E. C. Josten of the Josten Hardware company: "Nothing better ever put out on home trading."

J. S. Aron, of J. S. Aron & Co., shoes: "Very good—don't see how it could have been better."

Henry H. Boehm, manager of the Continental Clothing house: "Just what was needed."

J. J. Poehling of the J. J. Poehling Dry Goods company: "Very fine edition and should be followed up with more."

W. E. Schreiter, jeweler: "Could not have been better and was very convincing."

What the Edition Contains

Good Reading For Both Merchant and Consumer

This is Only a Partial List of the Features

APPEAL TO THE THOUGHTFUL

Mail Order Houses do not promote the prosperity of our town. They are injurious to its best interests. They destroy real estate values; bankrupt the merchant of small capital.

ALL ONE FAMILY

All Mail Order Houses are alike. One reason is because of the methods employed, their wide advertising, etc. Capital concentration. A dozen concerns amalgamate and make a trust that works to the detriment of the farmer and the masses of the land and operated by the dollars that were supplied by the very people suppressed by it.

HONESTY THEIR TRADE

The Mail Order Houses keep pounding away with their tom-tom catalogs to attract the people and the legitimate dealer does not know what they are saying against him. The honest man does not have to advertise his honesty—the Mail Order houses do it continually.

ALL TRADE AT HOME BUILDS UP BUSINESS

Above all things trade at home. Be on the safe side of your dealings. The home merchant is the one to patronize. He makes good. He builds your town, your schools, churches, etc.

MIGHT MAKES RIGHT SAY MAIL ORDER MEN

Would wipe out home dealer if possible. Would hog entire retail trade of the United States. How to fight against them. Ways and means of conducting campaign.

THEY ARE NOT YOUR FRIEND

They cannot sell goods, on the average, at rates lower than the retailer can offer the same quality, when the item of freight is considered.

The Mail Order Houses do not sell any cheaper than your home merchant, but they do destroy your home town.

BARGAINS IN CLOTHES INTENDED TO DECEIVE

Remarkable instance of Mail Order fake. Sample tested thoroughly at meeting of manufacturers. It is said to be all wool but boiling leaves it confessed as cotton.

THEIR BARGAIN GROCERIES

Impure goods sent out. For every dollar saved by buying groceries, the cheap kind, from these concerns, ten dollars will have to be paid out for doctor's bills and medicine.

THEIR BARGAIN JEWELRY

Mail Order Houses say: "Our very special price, on this watch, $30.40, much lower than sold by jewelers." The fact is this identical line of watches is sold by jewelers everywhere at $31.50.

THEIR BARGAIN DRUGS

Preparations compounded short in weight or quantity. Colorless and harmless powders mixed with costly drugs.

THEIR BARGAIN HARDWARE

The cheapest kind of materials are used in shipping out hardware and the articles are of little value.

THEIR BARGAIN DRY GOODS

Made up of "re-claimed" wool, manufactured out of rags from all over the world.

TO THE LADIES

Give this Mail Order proposition serious thought and help build up your home town and her trade and thereby help yourself and the city by giving your trade to your home merchants.

YOUR HOME BANKS

Don't send your money to Mail Order Houses to deposit. The home banks will grant you favors. The Mail Order Houses never do.

DON'T EVER BUY CHEAP STUFF

You always lose money by the transaction.

THE NEWSPAPER

The newspaper is the greatest bulwark for home interests there is.

WHAT MAIL ORDER HOUSES WILL NOT DO

They are parasites to whom life is only possible as long as they suck blood out of the communities to the upbuilding of which they create nothing.

ANYTHING TO GET TRADE

They will tell you they are the cheapest place to buy and that they have the best facilities. They exaggerate, misrepresent and fool the people after they get the money.

WHAT GOVERNOR FOLK SAYS

We want the city merchants to build up and we also want the country merchants to prosper. I do not believe in the mail order citizen. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and to make his money in, it is good enough to spend his money in.

DOCTORED GROCERIES

Few pure goods put out by Mail Order Houses. Mostly adulterated and dangerous accordingly.

HEART TO HEART TALK

How much does the Mail Order House you patronize spend in Janesville? Does it keep up the schools? How much employment does it give your husband in a year?

MAIL ORDER BARGAIN STAINED WITH BLOOD

Thus a preacher speaks of methods in vogue. False weights often used by these faraway concerns. Increased wealth a problem. Patron of Mail Order House makes situation worse.

Lena of the Mountains

If all you little people who read this story could have but known little Lena. She was just the sweetest little girl in the whole world and living there up in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, she seemed like some beautiful flower that had been dropped right down from some sky flower garden.

Her home was a rough cabin made of heavy logs, and months and months often went by without her seeing a living person aside from her father. He was a trapper and he had moved to that lonely country soon after Lena's mother's death, when the child was hardly more than a baby. Just like the pretty green growing things of the mountains she had grown up to a little girl of nine, but she was far more beautiful than any growing thing and her songs were sweeter than the songs of the birds who loved her and came each morning to awaken her.

Some days her father would go off to visit his traps, to be gone the whole day long, but Lena was never lonesome. The smaller animals loved her, and usually they would come close to the cabin to be fed with crumbs from the little cabin table. If any of the larger animals came out into the little clearing, she would rush into the house and bar the door and wait for them to go away. Even then, she was not frightened. But there was one night that little Lena was frightened. Her father had kissed her goodby in the early morning to visit some of his traps. It was one of those same quiet beautiful mountain days and Lena sang as before and layed herself here and tain peak. "Father will come soon, now," the child said to herself. It grew darker. Finally the sun sank out of sight altogether. It now grew very dark and still her father did not come. "Where could he be; he never was as late as this before," she thought. She began to be a bit frightened because she had never been alone before at night. She gazed off through the darkness, down towards the woodpath that came out into the clearing, but she saw no one. Then she went into the cabin and closing and barring the door, she lit the lamp. She tried to eat something, but she could not swallow the food and still she waited.

All night long she sat frightened at the cries of the night animals and finally when morning broke, she felt very ill.

But with the rising sun came the father. He had lost his way. Do you wonder that Lena cried when she saw him? And do you wonder that the good father cried too when he thought how lonely his little girl must have been all though the long night? But she felt better right away and to this day Lena still lives away up among the mountains—happy, beautiful and good.

Wouldn't you like to know such a dear little girl?

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON.

KNOW of no better thing to do today than to cease my own chattering for once and give over my space to the great man, the anniversary of whose birthday occurred this week.

A FEW SAVINGS OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

"The way for a young man to rise is to improve himself in every way he can, never suspecting that anybody is hindering him."

"With maffice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right; let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

"You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

"Get them to ploughing and gathering in their own little crops, and eating peacock at their own feasts, and they can't get them to shoulder a musket again for half a century" (discussing terms of peace).

"I do not think much of man who is not wiser today than he was yesterday."

"When I am dead I want my friends to remember that I always plucked a thistle and planted a rose when in my power."

"Broken eggs cannot be mended."

"To a woman who came to him to ask a pardon for her brother: 'My poor girl, you have come here with no governor, senator or member of congress to speak in your cause; you seem honest and truthful, and you don't wear hoop, and I'll be whipped if I don't pardon him.'"

"I have one vote and I shall always cast that against wrong as long as I live."

"No man living any more worthy to be trusted than those who tell up from poverty."

"I do not wish to die until the world is better for my having lived."

"No man is good enough to govern another man without that other man's consent."

"When you can't remove an obstacle plough around it."

"A living dog is better than a dead lion."

"If we do right God will be with us, and if God is with us we cannot fail."

"Suspicion and jealousy never did help any man in any situation."

"Better give your path to the dog—even killing the dog would not cure the bite."

"This country with its institutions belongs to the people who inhabit it."

"All that I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

DERIVED MOTHER OF DOROTHY ARNOLD.
Mrs. Francis R. Arnold.

New York.—Whatever may have been the fate of Dorothy Arnold, the beautiful daughter of millionaire Arnold, her mother is still hopeful and is seeking for Dorothy in Europe. Mr. Arnold believes the girl is dead, perhaps at her own hands. It has now been learned that Dorothy threatened suicide because of the family's objections to the courtship of George Oriscom, Jr., a relative of Lloyd C. Griscom.

THE HAREM SKIRT.

Of course, Mrs. Henpeck and women wearing soon the "harem skirt," the of her disposition "wore the trousers" "breeches skirt"—the "jupon culotte," in their household. But the interesting they call it in Paris. The question is, will all women be "They will," answer Worth, Paquin,

Doubt and all the most fashionable dressmakers in Paris, and, as every woman knows, Paris sets the fashion for women all over the world. Besides, several leaders of fashion in Paris assert that this skirt has come into existence through the demand of the men themselves.

The man who finds joy—real contentment and the desire to go on and on in his work, to make each day's output better than that of yesterday has found the way of life. Such a man knows that work is not the curse of the race but its blessing.

Here are pictures of two young women wearing the harem skirt. It would make even Broadway sit up and take notice for nine days anyhow. No more man would dare to attempt to describe the skirt; a woman says this of it:

"The creation of the breeches skirt is due to the desire to conserve the excellent lines of the so-called hobble skirt and at the same time allow the wearer to move and walk unhampered.

At first glance there is not much difference to be seen between the hobble skirt and the breeches skirt. When the woman is standing still the new skirt falls in the same graceful lines as the old, but in the movement there are really two skirts. The outer one is open on both sides. Under this, of the same material as the outer skirt, or of the material of which the waist is made, is another skirt which is divided much after the fashion of the trouser worn by Turkish women."

FROM REGION OF GOLD DISCOVERY

HENRY SKAVLEM TELLS OF NEW COUNTRY BEING OPENED IN ONTARIO.

RIVAL OF THE KLONDYKE

Wonderful Rush of Miners and Prospectors To the Porcupine Lake Country Where Metal Was Discovered.

Unknown to the average person, the discovery of gold in central Ontario, Canada, is soon to cause a rush into that region equal to if not greater than the influx into California in 1849. Interesting details of this country have been brought to Janesville this week by Henry Skavlem, who for the past four months has been at Cobalt, Ontario, in the employ of the Motor Silver Mining company. Mr. Skavlem graduated from the Colorado school of mines last spring and has been doing prospecting for the above company around Cobalt all winter left today for that city and from there will go to the region of Porcupine Lake.

This Porcupine region as it is called, is the seat of the recent gold discovery and is situated just southwest of the lake by that name and about 150 miles north of Cobalt. Here, a little over a year ago, gold was unearthed and today a wilderness has been transformed into a well populated township which have all been staked out. Furthermore, there is a steady stream of gold seekers hurrying into the Porcupine country as fast as the meager and inefficient transportation facilities will permit. All travel from Cobalt north comes to a stop in the spring on account of the muddy character of the region and so it is necessary to reach the railroad terminal before March 1.

The right of way has been bought and cleared by the Tomiskanang and Northern Ontario Ry'road for a line from the main branch into the very heart of the gold fields. The trip at present is made by means of stage coach and from Cobalt requires about a day.

Great tales are told of the enhanced values of claims in this country and already fortunes have been made over night by the sale of claims, thought worthless before the yellow metal was discovered in such quantities. One man, John Bridges by name, residing in Cobalt, staked out a claim in the Porcupine country some years ago and thought nothing more of it. Probably he had never put more than $2,000 into the pence of land altogether. Just recently he sold his share in the claim for $150,000.00 to some syndicate of miners in the east. This is only one of many such cases. Great values are expected to develop as soon as railroads are extended into the region.

Most of the land is being bought up by the big companies in fact, the bound condition of the place demands the investment of capital to develop it. Notwithstanding this fact, the individual owners are operating successfully at present as the enterprises which are now being worked produce a grade of ore which is easily handled and milled. Men and women, professional prospectors and tenderfeet, young and old, lured by the fascinating search for sudden wealth are braving the dangers of this northern country and staking their fortunes in this suddenly popular "Klondyke the second." Gold seekers from all over the United States, from Europe and even from the South African gold regions are pouring into the Porcupine country and all the life of the mining camp from the word to the best is being lived there.

While the first finding of gold there was over a year ago, with the filling up and working of the area is only in its initial stage. It is estimated that the region known as the Porcupine comprising about 144 square miles, will by next September have a population of 35,000.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY IS DEAD

Charles C. Doolittle Has Passed Away At His Home At Winnebago City Burial At Evansville.

OBITUARY TO THE GAZETTE

Evansville, Feb. 17.—Charles D. Doolittle received a telegram this morning which brought the sad news that his father, Wesley Hopkins Doolittle, had passed away at six thirty o'clock Thursday at his home in Winnebago City, Minnesota. He was seventy years of age and was well known in Evansville and vicinity, having come here from Ohio in an early day. The family resided in Magnolia until 1881 when they moved here, and Mr. Doolittle took a position in the Grange store which he held until he moved to Winnebago City a few years ago.

He is survived by a wife, four sons, Charles D. of Evansville; Roy of South Dakota; and Frank and Hale and one daughter, Olive, all of Winnebago City. Beside the family he has a host of friends here who will mourn his loss. The remains will be brought here tomorrow to the home of his son on Main street and the funeral will be held some time Sunday.

Delegates Named.

Messrs. Eugene Harris, W. H. Walker and Charles Jenkins have been selected as delegates to attend the district convention of Odd Fellows which will be held at Milton, February 22.

Annual Social.

A very pleasant gathering was held in the parlor of the Congregational church last evening when the Young Ladies' Missionary society held their annual mid-winter social meeting. There were eighty present which included the husbands of the members and about twenty-five friends. Hearts and candle were used in the decoration and the color scheme was carried out in red. Supper was served at six thirty and the evening was spent with games.

Personal.

Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Myers and daughter, Pauline, went to Big Bend, Wis., this afternoon to attend the funeral of Dr. Tomey which occurs tomorrow.

Fifteen or twenty members of the Odd Fellows went to Janesville today to attend a banquet given there this evening by the Janesville Encampment of Odd Fellows.

SODALITY BANQUET ON THURSDAY NEXT

Elaborate Affair Planned by the Young Ladies of St. Patrick's Church.

On Thursday evening next the annual banquet of the Young Ladies' Society of St. Patrick's church will be held at the Myers hotel at seven-thirty. Covers will be laid for a hundred and fifty and the management of the hotel is preparing a special menu for the dinner. Miss Mae Hayes will act as toastmaster and clever speeches will be made during the evening. The Knott and Hatch orchestra will play during the dinner hour and later will furnish musical numbers during the post-prandial program.

TO GIVE PLAY AT K. C. HALL ON FEBRUARY TWENTY-EIGHTH

Children of Mary of St. Patrick's Church Rehearsing a Novel Playlet.

On the 28th of February, the Children of Mary of St. Patrick's church will present a little playlet entitled "St. Kleopatra," at the Knights of Columbus hall. Mrs. Janet B. Day is training them for the work and it promises to be an interesting evening.

INSTITUTE ANOTHER LODGE IN THE CITY

Bowery City Lodge of Knights and Ladies of Honor Started Here Thursday Evening.

With a charter list of fifty-five members, the Bowery City Lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor was started in this city Thursday evening, in the East Side Odd Fellows' hall. Deputy Walter W. Connell, assisted by State Supreme Deputy Fra. A. Landis and District Deputy J. King, conducted the ceremonies of institution. The following officers were elected: Dr. W. H. McFernott, protector; Eddie Nichols, past protector; F. A. Green, vice-protector; Mrs. Clara Green, chaplain; Miss Tina Horne, recording secretary; Frank Novak, financial secretary; L. L. Miller, treasurer; L. Bohan, guide; Fred Seeman, guardian; Arthur Rhinel, sentinel; Dr. Farmsworth, Max Pickering and Miss Horne, trustees.

Quite a few guests from out of town were present and the company was entertained by singing and impersonations by Miss Ruth Lamb, the child vocalist of Milwaukee. Various committees were appointed and arrangements made to attend to the social side of the lodge.

CLUB GAVE SUPPER TO CHOIR MEMBERS

Presbyterian Church Choir Enjoyed Banquet Spread for Them by Essoebur Club.

In appreciation of their services to the church, the members of the Presbyterian church choir were given a banquet last evening in the church by the Essoebur Club. A bounteous repast was served and afterward, J. S. Taylor, director of the choir, made a short speech, thanking the ladies of the club for what they had done and speaking of the kind and courteous treatment generally accorded the choir members. Mr. Taylor has been director of music at the church for the past three years.

A FINE PROGRAM AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

Otterbein Brotherhood of U. B. Church Held Interesting Session.

The Otterbein Brotherhood of the U. B. church met at the church last evening. A very interesting program was enjoyed by all present. The following subjects were ably handled by different members:

"Can the Brotherhood promote the religious welfare of men in this neighborhood?" If so, what method must be used?" By P. Van Pool.

"What should we expect from the Brotherhood, socially?" Carl Safady.

"What can the Brotherhood do for the moral man?" S. Richards.

"The Brotherhood from the stand-point of a new member?" J. A. Baugh.

Several fine selections were rendered on the phonograph which added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

After the program light refreshments were served by the young ladies of the Christian Endeavor society.

SOLDIER BOYS' TEAM LOST TO CARDINALS

Local Basketball Players Won From St. John's Military Academy Five at Rink Last Night.

One after another of the substitutes brought along by the St. John's Military academy basketball team was put in their lineup, but they could not stem the tide of victory which ebbed steadily toward the Lakota Cardinals side. The soldier boys were defeated in last night's basketball game at the West Side roller rink, 27 to 16. St. John's won second place in the A. A. tournament at Chicago last season and came to Janesville evidently expecting an easy victory. They lost heart after the first half, however. The large door seemed to fatigue them and they had poor luck in throwing baskets. The score at the end of the half was 9 to 7 in favor of the Lakotas. Changing players in the second half brought no better results than were achieved in the first and the Cardinals ran up their score quite steadily until they doubled that of the St. John's five, 18 to 9. Glenn Robertson of Chicago, formerly with the Lakotas, was here and played. Details of the match:

Lakota Cardinals: Sennett, c; Cunningham, r; Robertson, lf; Langdon, rf; Green, lg; Beers, sub.

St. John's: Rose, c; Baum, rf; Bell and Gritten, lf; Coll and Connelly, rg; Gray, lg; Loweth, Griffen and Coombs, sub.

Field goals: Cunningham, 4; Robertson, 4; Langdon, 2; Baum, 3; Green, 2; Head, 1. Free throws: Baum, 4; Robertson, 1.

Referee, Monroe. Umpire, Mathews.

A Calculation.

"I calculate," says Edmon, "that we know one seven-billionth of one per cent, about anything."

"To tell?" exclaimed the rural aunt. "And which did you enjoy the most, dearie, Brussels carpets or Brussels sprouts?"

Back From Abroad.

The city news was telling about her European trip.

"And Brussels," she related with much enthusiasm, "Ah, Brussels was such a charming city."

"To tell?" exclaimed the rural aunt.

"And which did you enjoy the most, dearie, Brussels carpets or Brussels sprouts?"

Consolation.

With a sigh she laid down the magazine article upon Daniel O'Connell.

"The day of great men," she said, "is gone forever."

"But the day of beautiful women is not," he responded.

She smiled and blushed. "I was only joking," she explained, hurriedly.
